A reviewed FastAPI and React e-commerce teaching slice provides registration/login, product listing, owned carts, transactional order creation and order history. Model-generated source required recorded human corrections. Seven human-authored backend tests passed in the isolated sandbox; generated frontend behavior, coverage and load capacity were not measured. Payments are disabled. Remaining work includes admin editing, email verification/reset, production rate limiting, genuine payment integration and scalability validation. This is an educational demonstration, not a production readiness or security certification.
